

Why you should choose CRES

We think Real Estate Professionals get sued too much. The costs are way too high and they don't often have the right partner protecting them. We believe the real cost is in lost time and productivity. That's why we sell broad coverage and partner with only the best claims and legal professionals. Ones that think like we do. It's also why we put so much emphasis on risk management. From our legal hotline staffed with real litigators to innovative products like the CRES Home Warranties, Permit History Reports, and the REALAX® Agent Rating Database. After all, the claim that never happens is the best thing for all of us, but if it does you deserve the right partner. One that's dedicated 20 years towards protecting your livelihood. At CRES we're here to help make our clients more successful.
